

committee known as "Texas Association of Business and Chambers of Commerce PAC," also known as "BACPAC," and to certain Texas Legislative candidates that were endorsed and supported by the Texas Association of Business and Chambers of Commerce PAC, namely: Betty Brown and Mike Hamilton and Dan Flynn and Ken Mercer and Bryan Hughes and Byron Cook and Glenda Dawson and Rick Green and Gene Seaman and Holt Getterman and Sid Miller and Jack Stick and Nelson Balido and Wayne Christian and Eddie Shauberger and Larry Taylor and Todd Baxter and Ron Clark and Rick Hardcastle and Bill Zedler and Martha Wong and Dionne Roberts and Ben Bentzin and Bob Deuell, by directly and indirectly transferring a thing of value, namely the services of William Hammond and the corporate funds that were used to pay the salary and expenses of William Hammond, President and Chief Executive Officer of the Texas Association of Business, while William Hammond was advocating for the election of and supporting said candidates that had been endorsed by Texas Association of Business and Chambers of Commerce PAC, by speaking on behalf of said candidates in meetings with members of the press, and by urging others to support and vote for said candidates at events and gatherings, and by participating in meetings with political consultants and others to determine and implement strategies to assist said candidates, and by participating in the design of political advertisements supporting said candidates that were sent under the names of BACPAC and Texans for a Republican Majority PAC, and the commission of said offense was authorized and requested and commanded and performed and recklessly tolerated by a high managerial agent, namely William Hammond, acting in behalf of the Texas Association of Business and within the scope of his office and employment,

{COUNT 1, PARAGRAPH 2}

THE GRAND JURY FURTHER PRESENT THAT on or about and between the thirty-first day of August, A.D., 2002 and the thirtieth day of November, A.D., 2002 in the County of Travis and State of Texas, the defendant, TEXAS ASSOCIATION OF BUSINESS, a corporation organized under the Texas Non-Profit Corporation Act, whose residence was situated in the County of Travis and State of Texas, did unlawfully make a political expenditure in connection with a campaign for elective office that was not authorized by Subchapter D of Chapter 253 of the Texas Election Code, by expending corporate funds to pay the salary and expenses of William Hammond, President and Chief Executive Officer of the Texas Association of Business, while William Hammond was expressly advocating for the election of identified Texas Legislative candidates that had been endorsed by Texas Association of Business and Chambers of Commerce PAC, namely: Betty Brown and Mike Hamilton and Dan Flynn and Ken Mercer and Bryan Hughes and Byron Cook and Glenda Dawson and Rick Green and Gene Seaman and Holt Getterman and Sid Miller and Jack Stick and Nelson Balido and Wayne Christian and Eddie Shauberger and Larry Taylor and Todd Baxter and Ron Clark and Rick Hardcastle and Bill Zedler and Martha Wong and Dionne Roberts and Ben Bentzin and Bob Deuell, by speaking on behalf of said candidates in meetings with members of the press, and by urging others to support and vote for said candidates at events and gatherings, and by participating in the design of political advertisements supporting said candidates that were sent under the names of BACPAC and Texans for a Republican Majority PAC, and the commission of said offense was authorized and requested and commanded and performed and recklessly tolerated by a high managerial agent , namely William Hammond, acting in behalf of the Texas Association of Business and within the scope of his office and employment;

{COUNT 2}

THE GRAND JURY FURTHER PRESENT THAT on or about and between the thirty-first day of August, A.D., 2002 and the thirtieth day of November, A.D., 2002, in the County of Travis and State of Texas, the defendant, TEXAS ASSOCIATION OF BUSINESS, a corporation organized under the Texas Non-Profit Corporation Act, whose residence was situated in the County of Travis and State of Texas, did, with intent that it be used in connection with a campaign for elective office, unlawfully make a political contribution that was not authorized by Subchapter D of Chapter 253 of the Texas Election Code, to a political committee known as "Texas Association of Business and Chambers of Commerce PAC," also known as "BACPAC," by directly and indirectly transferring a thing of value, namely the services of Jack Campbell and the corporate funds that were used to pay the salary of Jack Campbell, the governmental affairs manager of the Texas Association of Business, while Jack Campbell was supporting and assisting in the election of identified Texas Legislative candidates that had been endorsed by Texas Association of Business and Chambers of Commerce PAC, namely: Betty Brown and Mike Hamilton and Dan Flynn and Ken Mercer and Bryan Hughes and Byron Cook and Glenda Dawson and Rick Green and Gene Seaman and Holt Getterman and Sid Miller and Jack Stick and Nelson Balido and Wayne Christian and Eddie Shauberger and Larry Taylor and Todd Baxter and Ron Clark and Rick Hardcastle and Bill Zedler and Martha Wong and Dionne Roberts and Ben Bentzin and Bob Deuell, by participating in meetings with political consultants and others to determine and implement strategies to assist said candidates, and by communicating with said candidates and their supporters, and by participating in the design of political advertisements supporting said candidates that were sent under the names of BACPAC and Texans for a

Republican Majority PAC, and the commission of said offense was authorized and requested and commanded and performed and recklessly tolerated by a high managerial agent, namely William Hammond, acting in behalf of the Texas Association of Business and within the scope of his office and employment,

{COUNT 3}

THE GRAND JURY FURTHER PRESENT THAT on or about the fifteenth day of September, A.D., 2002, in the County of Travis and State of Texas, the defendant, TEXAS ASSOCIATION OF BUSINESS, a corporation organized under the Texas Non-Profit Corporation Act, whose residence was situated in the County of Travis and State of Texas, did unlawfully make a political contribution that was not authorized by Subchapter D of Chapter 253 of the Texas Election Code, to wit, the defendant did make a contribution, to wit, a transfer of the services of Jack Campbell as the defendant's governmental affairs manager, to a political committee known as "Texas Association of Business and Chambers of Commerce PAC," also known as "BACPAC," and to a political committee known as "TAB's Voter Education Campaign," "Texas Strategic Partners," "Texas Strategic Partners Political Subcommittee," "Strategic Partners Task Force," "Strategic Partners Task Force Political Subcommittee," "Texas Strategic Alliance," and "Texas Strategic Alliance Political Subcommittee," by expending corporate funds as compensation for services that the said Jack Campbell rendered to the said political committee, with the intent that the said transfer of services be used in connection with a campaign for elective office.

{COUNT 5}

THE GRAND JURY FURTHER PRESENT THAT on or about the thirtieth day of September, A.D., 2002, in the County of Travis and State of Texas, the defendant, TEXAS ASSOCIATION OF BUSINESS, a corporation organized under the Texas Non-Profit Corporation Act, whose residence was situated in the County of Travis and State of Texas, did unlawfully make a political contribution that was not authorized by Subchapter D of Chapter 253 of the Texas Election Code, to wit, the defendant did make a contribution, to wit, a transfer of the services of William Hammond as the defendant's president and chief executive officer, to a political committee known as "Texas Association of Business and Chambers of Commerce PAC," also known as "BACPAC," and to a political committee known as "TAB's Voter Education Campaign," "Texas Strategic Partners," "Texas Strategic Partners Political Subcommittee," "Strategic Partners Task Force," "Strategic Partners Task Force Political Subcommittee," "Texas Strategic Alliance," and "Texas Strategic Alliance Political Subcommittee," by expending corporate funds as compensation for services that the said William Hammond rendered to the said political committee, with the intent that the said transfer of services be used in connection with a campaign for elective office.

{COUNT 6}

THE GRAND JURY FURTHER PRESENT THAT on or about the thirtieth day of September, A.D., 2002, in the County of Travis and State of Texas, the defendant, TEXAS ASSOCIATION OF BUSINESS, a corporation organized under the Texas Non-Profit Corporation Act, whose residence was situated in the County of Travis and State of Texas, did unlawfully make a political contribution that was not authorized by Subchapter D of Chapter 253 of the Texas Election Code, to wit, the defendant did make a contribution, to wit, a transfer of the services of Jack Campbell as the defendant's governmental affairs manager, to a political committee known as "Texas Association of Business and Chambers of Commerce PAC," also known as "BACPAC," and to a political committee known as "TAB's Voter Education Campaign," "Texas Strategic Partners," "Texas Strategic Partners Political Subcommittee," "Strategic Partners Task Force," "Strategic Partners Task Force Political Subcommittee," "Texas Strategic Alliance," and

"Texas Strategic Alliance Political Subcommittee," by expending corporate funds as compensation for services that the said Jack Campbell rendered to the said political committee, with the intent that the said transfer of services be used in connection with a campaign for elective office.

{COUNT 7}

THE GRAND JURY FURTHER PRESENT THAT on or about the fifteenth day of October, A.D., 2002, in the County of Travis and State of Texas, the defendant, TEXAS ASSOCIATION OF BUSINESS, a corporation organized under the Texas Non-Profit Corporation Act, whose residence was situated in the County of Travis and State of Texas, did unlawfully make a political contribution that was not authorized by Subchapter D of Chapter 253 of the Texas Election Code, to wit, the defendant did make a contribution, to wit, a transfer of the services of William Hammond as the defendant's president and chief executive officer, to a political committee known as "Texas Association of Business and Chambers of Commerce PAC," also known as "BACPAC," and to a political committee known as "TAB's Voter Education Campaign," "Texas Strategic Partners," "Texas Strategic Partners Political Subcommittee," "Strategic Partners Task Force," "Strategic Partners Task Force Political Subcommittee," "Texas Strategic Alliance," and "Texas Strategic Alliance Political Subcommittee," by expending corporate funds as compensation for services that the said William Hammond rendered to the said political committee, with the intent that the said transfer of services be used in connection with a campaign for elective office.

{COUNT 8}

THE GRAND JURY FURTHER PRESENT THAT on or about the fifteenth day of October, A.D., 2002, in the County of Travis and State of Texas, the defendant, TEXAS ASSOCIATION OF BUSINESS, a corporation organized under the Texas Non-Profit Corporation Act, whose residence was situated in the County of Travis and State of Texas, did unlawfully make a political contribution that was not authorized by Subchapter D of Chapter 253 of the Texas Election Code, to wit, the defendant did make a contribution, to wit, a transfer of the services of Jack Campbell as the defendant's governmental affairs manager, to a political committee known as "Texas Association of Business and Chambers of Commerce PAC," also known as "BACPAC," and to a political committee known as "TAB's Voter Education Campaign," "Texas Strategic Partners," "Texas Strategic Partners Political Subcommittee," "Strategic Partners Task Force," "Strategic Partners Task Force Political Subcommittee," "Texas Strategic Alliance," and "Texas Strategic Alliance Political Subcommittee," by expending corporate funds as compensation for services that the said Jack Campbell rendered to the said political committee, with the intent that the said transfer of services be used in connection with a campaign for elective office.

{COUNT 9}

THE GRAND JURY FURTHER PRESENT THAT on or about the thirty-first day of October, A.D., 2002, in the County of Travis and State of Texas, the defendant, TEXAS ASSOCIATION OF BUSINESS, a corporation organized under the Texas Non-Profit Corporation Act, whose residence was situated in the County of Travis and State of Texas, did unlawfully make a political contribution that was not authorized by Subchapter D of Chapter 253 of the Texas Election Code, to wit, the defendant did make a contribution, to wit, a transfer of the services of William Hammond as the defendant's president and chief executive officer, to a political committee known as "Texas Association of Business and Chambers of Commerce PAC," also known as "BACPAC," and to a political committee known as "TAB's Voter Education Campaign," "Texas Strategic Partners," "Texas Strategic Partners Political Subcommittee," "Strategic Partners Task Force," "Strategic Partners Task Force Political Subcommittee," "Texas Strategic Alliance," and "Texas Strategic Alliance Political Subcommittee," by expending corporate funds as compensation for services that the said William Hammond rendered to the said political committee, with the intent that the said transfer of services be used in connection with a campaign for elective office.

{COUNT 10}

THE GRAND JURY FURTHER PRESENT THAT on or about the thirty-first day of October, A.D., 2002, in the County of Travis and State of Texas, the defendant, TEXAS ASSOCIATION OF BUSINESS, a corporation organized under the Texas Non-Profit Corporation Act, whose residence was situated in the County of Travis and State of Texas, did unlawfully make a political contribution that was not authorized by Subchapter D of Chapter 253 of the Texas Election Code, to wit, the defendant did make a contribution, to wit, a transfer of the services of Jack Campbell as the defendant's governmental affairs manager, to a political committee known as "Texas Association of Business and Chambers of Commerce PAC," also known as "BACPAC," and to a political committee known as "TAB's Voter Education Campaign," "Texas Strategic Partners," "Texas Strategic Partners Political Subcommittee," "Strategic Partners Task Force," "Strategic Partners Task Force Political Subcommittee," "Texas Strategic Alliance," and "Texas Strategic Alliance Political Subcommittee," by expending corporate funds as compensation for services that the said Jack Campbell rendered to the said political committee, with the intent that the said transfer of services be used in connection with a campaign for elective office.

{COUNT 11}

THE GRAND JURY FURTHER PRESENT THAT on or about the fifteenth day of November, A.D., 2002, in the County of Travis and State of Texas, the defendant, TEXAS ASSOCIATION OF BUSINESS, a corporation organized under the Texas Non-Profit Corporation Act, whose residence was situated in the County of Travis and State of Texas, did unlawfully make a political contribution that was not authorized by Subchapter D of Chapter 253 of the Texas Election Code, to wit, the defendant did make a contribution, to wit, a transfer of the services of William Hammond as the defendant's president and chief executive officer, to a political committee known as "Texas Association of Business and Chambers of Commerce PAC," also known as "BACPAC," and to a political committee known as "TAB's Voter Education Campaign," "Texas Strategic Partners," "Texas Strategic Partners Political Subcommittee," "Strategic Partners Task Force," "Strategic Partners Task Force Political Subcommittee," "Texas Strategic Alliance," and "Texas Strategic Alliance Political Subcommittee," by expending corporate funds as compensation for services that the said William Hammond rendered to the said political committee, with the intent that the said transfer of services be used in connection with a campaign for elective office.

{COUNT 12}

THE GRAND JURY FURTHER PRESENT THAT on or about the fifteenth day of November, A.D., 2002, in the County of Travis and State of Texas, the defendant, TEXAS ASSOCIATION OF BUSINESS, a corporation organized under the Texas Non-Profit Corporation Act, whose residence was situated in the County of Travis and State of Texas, did unlawfully make a political contribution that was not authorized by Subchapter D of Chapter 253 of the Texas Election Code, to wit, the defendant did make a contribution, to wit, a transfer of the services of Jack Campbell as the defendant's governmental affairs manager, to a political committee known as "Texas Association of Business and Chambers of Commerce PAC," also known as "BACPAC," and to a political committee known as "TAB's Voter Education Campaign," "Texas Strategic Partners," "Texas Strategic Partners Political Subcommittee," "Strategic Partners Task Force," "Strategic Partners Task Force Political Subcommittee," "Texas Strategic Alliance," and

"Texas Strategic Alliance Political Subcommittee," by expending corporate funds as compensation for services that the said Jack Campbell rendered to the said political committee, with the intent that the said transfer of services be used in connection with a campaign for elective office.

{COUNT 13}

THE GRAND JURY FURTHER PRESENT THAT on or about the thirtieth day of November, A.D., 2002, in the County of Travis and State of Texas, the defendant, TEXAS ASSOCIATION OF BUSINESS, a corporation organized under the Texas Non-Profit Corporation Act, whose residence was situated in the County of Travis and State of Texas, did unlawfully make a political contribution that was not authorized by Subchapter D of Chapter 253 of the Texas Election Code, to wit, the defendant did make a contribution, to wit, a transfer of the services of William Hammond as the defendant's president and chief executive officer, to a political committee known as "Texas Association of Business and Chambers of Commerce PAC," also known as "BACPAC," and to a political committee known as "TAB's Voter Education Campaign," "Texas Strategic Partners," "Texas Strategic Partners Political Subcommittee," "Strategic Partners Task Force," "Strategic Partners Task Force Political Subcommittee," "Texas Strategic Alliance," and "Texas Strategic Alliance Political Subcommittee," by expending corporate funds as compensation for services that the said William Hammond rendered to the said political committee, with the intent that the said transfer of services be used in connection with a campaign for elective office.

{COUNT 14}

THE GRAND JURY FURTHER PRESENT THAT on or about the thirtieth day of November, A.D., 2002, in the County of Travis and State of Texas, the defendant, TEXAS ASSOCIATION OF BUSINESS, a corporation organized under the Texas Non-Profit Corporation Act, whose residence was situated in the County of Travis

and State of Texas, did unlawfully make a political contribution that was not authorized by Subchapter D of Chapter 253 of the Texas Election Code, to wit, the defendant did make a contribution, to wit, a transfer of the services of Jack Campbell as the defendant's governmental affairs manager, to a political committee known as "Texas Association of Business and Chambers of Commerce PAC," also known as "BACPAC," and to a political committee known as "TAB's Voter Education Campaign," "Texas Strategic Partners," "Texas Strategic Partners Political Subcommittee," "Strategic Partners Task Force," "Strategic Partners Task Force Political Subcommittee," "Texas Strategic Alliance," and "Texas Strategic Alliance Political Subcommittee," by expending corporate funds as compensation for services that the said Jack Campbell rendered to the said political committee, with the intent that the said transfer of services be used in connection with a campaign for elective office,

AGAINST THE PEACE AND DIGNITY OF THE STATE.

---

Foreperson of the Grand Jury