Attached is a copy of relevant activities at Texas Woman's University related to the 7 Breakthrough Solutions project.

Again, we expect to resume the discussion in the near future. However, I want to reemphasize one point.

The Governor's intent is that this be a regent driven project. We asked that senior system and/or institutional staff be assigned to listen in on these calls as resources to their respective board members by providing information and research only. Staff should provide information and explanation but not try to influence the regents as to the policy or direction of the proposals. Governor's or Coordinating Board staff are to serve the same role -- provide information and call coordination, not policy direction.

I hope this help.
