

Letter of Resignation

June 1st, 2017
To Paul Pressler.

I will no longer be offering my services to you. I am sorry, but this is where we will have to part ways.

I have had my concerns about you for some time now. But after witnessing several things that I did not agree with in the last few times I have been with you, my conscience dictates that I step away. Please do not seek future help from male students from Houston Baptist University, or any institution for that matter. I will tell my family and organizations that I stopped working for you due to prior Summer work commits.

Thank you for having me at CNP, but I consider my time helping you in D.C. as work, as well as the last few days I have helped you. With that said, I will accept the last paycheck for my services. Please take me off the payroll. If I am to continue receiving paychecks from Woodfill in the continuing weeks, I will have them sent back. Please do not call me. If you wish to contact me than you may only reach me by email.

Best,

Dear Nancy, Jean, Anne, and Paul III

The following letter is an explanation of my reasons for resignation from Paul's service. Know that it comes from a place of deep respect for your family and a desire for you all to have open communication. I will message [REDACTED] to ensure you have disclosed this email with each intended recipient, including Paul. Knowing that this issue has been intentionally avoided by at least Nancy and Paul, I feel this is a necessary measure.

You four must realize there is a serious issue at hand. For as long as I can tell, Paul has fostered inappropriately close relationships to the young men who work for him. I have both heard stories of and personally witnessed Paul getting young men who work for him to give him full-body massages, with all present parties in the nude. Especially recently, a young man's willingness to perform this act seems to be the main reason he hires them. While I could publish a book about the many times Paul has made me feel uncomfortable, made sexual comments, and hints of wanting me to unclothe myself, for the sake of this email I will only focus on the last two times I have been with Paul.

This last Saturday night, Paul told me that he went skinny dipping in the hot tub with [REDACTED] and his three young boys that are ten years old and younger. I do not find it reasonable at all for an 86-year-old man to be naked with three young boys, regardless if their father is present. After bragging about his hot tub experience Paul told me "you seriously need to get over your phobia of taking off your clothes with me". This upset me greatly. Paul then went on to say that "if the young boys were okay with getting naked in the hot tub with me then so you should be okay with it also". After this encounter, I concluded that there is a high chance that Paul struggles with pedophilia and could very well be a pedophile.

Yesterday I watched Paul manipulate a 20-year-old man named [REDACTED] who I know has previously stolen money from Paul and now is almost homeless. [REDACTED] had nowhere to turn so he called Paul, who took this as a sign to get something out of a young man that needed help. After being sternly instructed by Nancy to NOT bring [REDACTED] home due to his theft background, Paul disregarded this instruction and invited him home. While at the restaurant, Paul asked [REDACTED] if he would give him a massage and told him he would pay him for it ($100). On the car ride home Paul asked [REDACTED] if it were okay if he would massage Paul if he were naked. [REDACTED] reluctantly said do whatever you would like to do. Paul then told [REDACTED] "I would prefer if you were naked while you would massage me" [REDACTED] quickly said no thank you. We all got home and they quickly went upstairs to begin the massage. He made sure the door was locked so that Nancy could not walk in. I know this because I checked. I felt extremely sad for [REDACTED] because I could tell on his face that he felt that he was just taken advantage of. Paul executed on the opportunity to have a young man touch him, and tried to seize the opportunity to please his eyes as he wished to look upon another naked man. Right before our exit, Paul told [REDACTED] "Next time I'll massage you when you massage me" [REDACTED] said no thanks. I know Paul said this because I was standing two feet away. I observed Paul kiss [REDACTED] six times between the two and a half hours we were all together. I know [REDACTED] did not enjoy it because he hardly knows Paul and I could also see it on his face. I don't what kissing means in your family, but it is unacceptably intimate in today's culture.

On our way to pick up [REDACTED] Paul kept touching my arms and put his hand through the top of my shirt and felt around on my upper back. I moved and felt it was extremely weird. Paul then said while touching my back "I really need this, I need the connection and affection" I then asked, "doesn't Nancy give you all the affection you need because she is your loving wife?" Paul then said, "Yes she does, but it's not the same". At that point, I knew he cares for a man's touch and is more than likely a closet homosexual. The biggest issue is that Paul and Nancy cannot have open communication about everything in their lives and are constantly hiding things from each other.

This is only the tip of the ice burg when it come to my concerns for Paul. There is much more content I could tell you that is similar in nature to what you have just read. I do not think Paul should be around small children or have male assistance of any kind unless it's a 40-year-old Nigerian Nurse, because of his racist sustain for black people. I know that there is an ongoing law suit regarding Paul and a male, and I know there was an incident when this male was younger and while they were both on a vacation trip. If I had to guess, it was an assault of some kind of sexual nature. If this much is true, then I would say he DID do whatever he is being accused of.

In my opinion, Paul needs to step down from any figurative leadership of any kind. (CNP, KHCB, DSWTS, SBC) Paul is a hypocrite and is living a double life. He does not need to be glorified in any of these organizations due to both his homosexual tendencies/thoughts, and his inability to maintain a healthy marriage.

I knew there was a serious problem going on with Paul when I realized that he talks way more about nudity, the male body, being naked in spas in Europe being naked in general than God, or his Baptist background. I will leave it at that.

I know this email may very well hurt your family, but Paul needs to be stopped today for a hundred different reasons. You all have let his behavior ruin the Pressler name in many circles, as I have personally heard gossip about what a hypocrite he is. As much as I know you would prefer to walk away from this issue, this IS your issue. You have allowed this to damage your relationships rather than seek healing, and you must realize how that reflects on your family, but more importantly on Christ. You are Christians. You are supposed to fight for relational healing, not awkwardly avoid it.

I want to respect your family's privacy, so I will ask that you all resolve this issue and that he not be allowed to hire another young, male friend. If his behavior is allowed to continue however, I will consult [REDACTED] what further action should be taken. I say this not because I want any scandal for your family, but because his behavior cannot be allowed to continue.

I am going to meet personally with [REDACTED] who introduced me to your family. I will thank her for the referral and inform her that I am no longer working for Paul because of some concerning issues regarding his current mental health. I will also instruct her to not send any more male students to possibly work for Paul. I am going to personally and kindly cut off that access for future student help from HBU. I am also attaching a resignation letter. Feel free to read it if you wish.

Please deal with this urgently but with Grace.

Best,

[REDACTED]
